

Professional Prospecting Skills™

Professional Prospecting Skills™ helps salespeople become successful at prospecting by approaching it as a process rather than 'cold calling.'

Using a proven process and key skills to remove the barriers that inhibit prospecting success

For those in a business-to-business sales role, Professional Prospecting Skills™ equips participants with the processes and skills needed to efficiently and effectively initiate new business relationships through prospecting. Specifically, participants will learn a three-phase approach to prospecting—Prepare, Contact, and Assess—as well as skills, tips, and techniques that ensure effectiveness in each phase.

Module Highlights and Outcomes

In the Prepare phase, participants will learn how to prepare effectively for their overall prospecting efforts, as well as for individual calls. This includes helping participants to:

- Analyzing the flow of business through their current business development process to gauging their prospecting needs and setting goals for their prospecting efforts.
- Identifying prospects (if appropriate) by sourcing leads from a variety of sources and evaluating them against pre-qualifying criteria.
- Identifying the business issues prospects may be facing and clarifying how they can help the prospects address such issues.
- Using research to prioritize prospecting activities and deciding where to focus their time.
- Developing an approach for how to access hard to reach prospects.

In the Contact phase, participants will focus on skills and techniques that will help them engage prospects once they have them on the phone. This includes instructing participants to:

- Create and deliver compelling information to engage prospects.
- Use brief questioning techniques to explore opportunities.
- Request action in a way that results in more appointments.
- Qualify prospects during the call.
- Address a prospect's indifference.
- Work productively with screeners.
- Use voice mail and e-mail as an effective prospecting tool.

Finally, in the Assess phase, participants will discuss the importance of assessing the results of their overall prospecting efforts on an ongoing basis. In this phase, participants will learn to:

- Utilize tools to evaluate skills use on individual calls.
- Leverage tools to measure ongoing metrics of prospecting success.
- Learn to revisit planning tools to make continuous adjustments and improvements in their approach.
